

AT&T FILM AWARDS

Calling all Student Filmmakers, ages 13-18!

SUBMIT NOW

The AT&T Film Awards is an open competition seeking imaginative, undiscovered short films from aspiring filmmakers who want their voices heard. We are excited to announce the 3rd edition of the competition – with a challenge for middle school & high school students:

How Education Opens Doors

Create a 90 sec. to 4 min. video to inspire your peers about the importance of an education. Some themes you might consider:

- Importance of graduation
- The power of mentorship
- How education prepares you for the jobs of the future

Cyberbullying

Create a 90 sec. to 4 min. video highlighting the importance of positivity and kindness in a world where many young people face bullying. Some themes you might consider:

- How can mobile phones be used to spread positivity and kindness
- Importance of stepping in to help others when they are facing bullying

Preventing Distracted Driving

Create a 90 sec. to 4 min. video to remind your peers why it's important not to drive distracted. Some themes you might consider:

- How everyone in a car has a responsibility to make sure a driver isn't distracted
- Nothing on a cell phone is more important than safe driving
